Duke of NukesK9TrooperHow do people think the Wall of Jericho fell? By an army supported by God.

once I recieve word from any sort of God that thinks Bush went into this for the right reasons and went about it the right way...then I'll think we did things right. But only the word of the Holy one himself will convince me of that once i hear from any sort of god, i'll consider believing in some sort of god. until then, i plan to do the right thing and support those doing the right thing according to my own sense of right and wrong. this includes supporting bush and our troops in a fight against a man bent on killing americans and iraqis every chance he gets.
