It's not a law. Nations cannot answer to other nations, because then they lose their individual power. Nowhere in the UN charter does it say that we cannot go to war if we feel we need to, which is outlined in the framework of this nation - the leaders are to protect America and American interests and we do not need permission from anyone to do it. Otherwise we wouldn't have signed the UN charter if it took military power from us.

A crime is a crime, you're right... But this isn't a crime, you're just pulling arguments out of your ass. That ought to be illegal, you criminal.
