JavacxNo, HIS UNDERSTANDING is different than your's. To YOU it's stupid but to him it reflects his personal concept of his patriotism. I, or you, don't necessarily have to agree with it, but to scorn it is just as bad as what you accuse him of.

So your saying i shouldn't say anything scornful about his opinon, not say / do anything.

Kinda the same approach people like him took on Iraq. "you know, saddam is a really big menie, but we shoudln't scorn his point of view or actions, that would be wrong, even if he is killing thousands of woman and children, there only iraqi what do we care."
