hydra1945Renardin6If you download it from another place, then we aren't responsible if it's corrupted by a virus or something else... Try to think sometimes... (I am serious, it won't hurt you, just try!) Thank you.

You're one to talk, Retarded6.

Your crappy-ass mod is responsible for wipping out entire harddrives of thousands of dollars of software; it's as bad as a computer virus, if not worse. That's destruction of property, and legal action should be taken against you people for putting up this virus for download without so much as a warning that certain configurations of certain operating systems may react negatively to the download and force the user to completely reinstall the entire system.

Try to think. I am not responsible for the stuff I don't put online. Do you like to show how stupid you can be ? It seems. The file on our ftp server is 100 % clean. If you get the mod somewhere else on a crappy bad protected server it's YOUR problem, not mine.

And again, the guy who compiled the old beta isn't part of the team anymore, we don't even know who did it and don't want to know. Try to find him and plz find a proof of what you say. (I managed to run the old beta without any problems on win98, winme, winxp... no virus, no problems, I READ the instructions and played the mod. As I said before, download reborn by our safe links and u won't have problems and if you think it's a crappy-ass mod, don't bother post here or download it, you 'tard.)

Anything you could answer to this to defend your point of view will be retarded, I hope you see it, if not, then read that post again.

(oh I forgot one funny point : legal pursuit for a bad beta against me? How ? I didn't make the old beta... duuuuuuuuuuuuuuh! Make me laugh more 'tard) j_ball430I don't see any disclaimer on their site. They could EASILY be in trouble.

Sure, we live in europe. We don't need some tips like "don't put the baby in the microwave..." like most of you do... and again, read text above.

I am amazed how it's easy to show you how you can be wrong. How old are most of you ? Do you go at university or something like that ? The funny point is how you persist in your wrong point of view like stupid assholes.

English is not my first language, but I understand very well how gay you can all be.
