Captkurt01AircraftkillerSigh, why must people rip off what I do?

I made those crystals almost four months ago.

They're up on Renegade Realm, downloads, gMax section.

Ack you always say people are ripping you off, let me ask you about the unfinished map that Westwood did, but you claim you did, Glacier Flying. I know/assume you did the way paths, what parts of it I built soon enough. I can honestly say I did more to that map than you did. You even used the GDI guard tower that WW made. You made nothing of your own in that map, you only finished it, which is what a beginner map per can do. I will soon show you real mapping soon enough. So in the mean time why don't you quit crying about what others do, quit accusing everyone else of ripping you off, quit embarrassing your self, you really look pretty bad.

First, I am a begining mapper, and I could never finish anything .

Second, we all know you didn't get anything from Westwood, that is until we keep waiting for you to show us how you "improved ACK's horrible Glacier Flying."

Third, Don't rant on about something you could never do, nor ever have a skill to complete something as good as Glacier.

Nonetheless, nice tibby crystals Orca!
