ADMI heard of a few cheat communities that also claim to have bypassed RenGuard. Sucks really, they are always going to find a way around or an exploit.

There will always be a few communities that brag to bypass RG. Not saying its impossible, but its sure as hell extremely improbable...The reason they will brag this is because they want silly, gulable little kids to download their cheats onto mommy or daddys machine, unzip said cheat and release the lovely little virus attached to the cheat into mommy and daddys computer, giving them some control over that machine or information on the people using it.

Let the retards download all the viruses they wish to, as long as RG holds up and both servers and players continue to use it, the genuine gamers in this community need not worry.

Deadfive I am not complaining really but am nearly trying to explore the thought of TOO MANY CHEATERS on WOL

That thought was explored ages ago, its why RG exists today.
