GSA has a 20 character limit. It's RenIP that allows the insane names.

I never liked GSA much, but the other day I downloaded it when WOL went down. GSA 2.0 is MUCH better than before. And there is only 1 ad(if non-subscribed) before you get to the game listings. It also lets you see the game stats on the side now, with the players, their scores, and their pings. Along with all the game rules, if they're running BR, ect, below that.

Most servers run WOLSPY now anyway, it is built into the new BrenBot after all. So it's all preference now, there really isn't much difference anymore.
