genetixAircraftkillerDoing what, picking out where you people lie about me? I never go around saying how great I am. In fact I rarely say anything about myself until someone decides to attack me, and the only time I bring myself up is when they do first.

Idiot.

You don't go around saying how great your mod is in every post. What you do do is bash all the other mods to make them look bad. And I can also remember you saying how renalert is much better than other mods.

Same thing goes with a lot of the work you do.

You said something completely different. Stop backtracking... You said that I always gloat about how great I am and about how great the work I do is. I pointed out that I rarely, if ever, do that.

Bashing what others make is NOT self-glorification. It could be just as simple as bashing what they make because it sucks. Why doesn't that ever cross your mind?
