If I were a texture, I'd be offended at being compared to an animal skin.

If I was refering to an animal skin, I would say animal skin.

If you can't understand what someone is refering to from the context, then you have issues that need ironing out.

Also, I want to add that skin only refers to the texture that is on a vehicle or a character. The ground does not have a skin, it has a texture.

Skin is more specific.
