Quote:wouldnt you hate it if you had this great idea or product.. that sold so well and you were the only one who knew how to make it.. and every one HAD to buy it from you.. Monopoly!!

but then GOV says your makin too much money.. and u have to stop.. lol
it's happened to me.. only in MMORPGS tho lol

You have no idea how pissed I'd be. I'd use all my money to buy an island and take the best scientists I could find with me. In there, I'd build a secret underground research facility where we'd invent out-of-this-world weapons. At ground level on the island, I'd pay people build a city and pay more people to start a community there. A community that would be a Utopia.

As the years pass and the research finishes, I'd use those newly aquired weapons to overthrow the evil government. From there, I'll move to taking over the rest of the world, and succeed.

That's just my two cents.
