AircraftkillerI'd pay $10 to go back in time to slap some sense into the person that decided "skin" was analogous to a texture or model.

I'd pay £10 go back in time and convince the FBI that you were in fact a terrorist taking pictures of those silos, and let them dump you in Guantanamo Bay, and beat the crap out of you, but we can't have everything.

Anyway what does it matter, skin - texture, right - wrong, you're just making something out of nothing as you always do.
