And that is "nice" remarks from ACK. I agree with everything he says. I also think you can add some more small details and make it look like things are supposed to be there instead of dropped down like legos.

Is there a goal to this map or is it just teleport around the map shooting?

Looks good. Add some fog, I think it would be col if the fog is thick enough that you cannot see the ground. And if it doesnt lag too much a few aircraft fly bys between the buildings.

Wha also would be cool is a chopper/orca spawn point somewhere. Of course mak it so yah dont get mad points for taking hem out.

Keep up the good work and heed what ACK said.
