Spoonythe issue here isn't actually racism.

If someone jokes about "killing Arabs", everyone seems to focus on the second word. Why? The first one is more offensive.

By killing arabs i ment the army killing them in teh war, as in i don't care how many have to die to save our guys its worth it. Im not saying kill them for no reason at all, only if they are a threat to us, but even if they are not and a few innocent people have to die to get one big fish wel, it has to be done.
