Arguements can't be backwards nor can they be ignorant. I wouldn't call him an armchair warrior either, he has no warrior-like qualities to him.

If the argument isn't backwards or ignorant, then the person who came up with it or uses that argument is. It is a very stupid thing to say.

When I say Armchair Warriors, I'm thinking of people who sit in their armchair with a beer in their hand, watching Fox and screaming support for the US and hate towards Arabs.

I thought it was fitting.

This thread is turning sour.
