cowmisfitWhat the hell is that supposed to mean? Is it spelt wrong or what.
Not really. Since you made that word up on the spot, I guess you can spell it how you like.

simply to try and make me look like an ass You'd be surprised just how little effort it takes.

cowmisfitClassic all liberals on these forums
I'm not a "liberal"

cowmisfitsay something the others didn't even ever post and hold it against them.
What about the stuff you did say? Oh.. wait... you were joking, weren't you?

cowmisfitNo you don't, you can say you dislike something tony blair says. He said that "armchair warriors" are bad, thats saying that you don't support them supprting the protection of your country.
No, you don't seem to have understood what he meant by "armchair warriors".

If I'm correct, it stems from the football term "armchair supporter", meaning someone who is supposedly devoted to the game but has never actually gone anywhere near a stadium. In this context, it would mean someone who's all for "bombing those damned terrorists, and too fucking bad if innocent human lives are lost in the process" but would never actually dream of joining the military.
