AircraftkillerAnother reason we're not patching anything is if it has problems, you'll demand another patch. Actually even if it didn't have problems you'd still ask for another patch... That's just how it goes.

Here's an idea. You guys get a community donation set up that raises around $150 and we'll do it.

And if you release a mod...people will ask more more. And more.

So why not just quit? Since you seem to hate it so much.
