I like how you added the Nod logo facing the player on the guns. Just incase we forget what side we're on in the middle of the game and start C4ing the buildings we spawn in.

Kind of says something about the intelligence of Reborn's target player base, doesn't it?

Also, I like how the round case ejection port is on the wrong side of the gun, This must be because all you masocistic Reborn players love being hit in the side of the face by shell casings when you fire your weapons.
