I think it looks really cool, I have been an admirer of the reborn mod for a long time now, I just haven't bothered with the forums for it. I have always tried to say a good word about the mod when I can. I have played it a few times and really enjoyed it. I will more than likely put up a <http://www.dre4mteam.com> server for it in the future, I love the fact that people are still making applications, tools, mods, and things alike for renegade. I will probably start becoming active on your forums soon, because I would like to become more involved, and also make sure the server won't be idle. We might also be able to become a mirror for you, maybe.

And no, my name has nothing to do with this mod. It is just a weird freak of chance.
