I don't have a clue about the links for xcc mixer or the W3D importer i think i done a forum search and found the original post (W3D importer) it wasn't too long ago i think it was on someones FTP

As for 'XCC Mixer' do a search on yahoo/google it's isn't hard to find at all as it has it's own website.

Dante could help you with the links to the W3D as it has been released through him.
