Yeah thats why i said hex. You search for the hex-characters. And i think its very possible. Though i support rengaurd very much, so i wont be getting in it or telling what i know and what works. But never think your software is invulnerable, NEVER EVER think that. Always think to yourself "ok this is good, but i need to make it better"

Not saying that rengaurd isnt good, just in general. So far its a nice peice of software.

And i never saw that topic before.
