
Subject: Terri Shiavo

Posted by Walrus on Tue, 29 Mar 2005 22:40:27 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Quote:She has never been given rehabilitation, (spelt wrong) You have no idea what condition she could be in and you can't say she that over the past 15 years she couldnt' have possibly gained SOME function back if it would have been allowed. But the saint of a husband (cough bullshit) has ordered there be none. Yea he really cares about his wife doesn't he, and don't forget his mistriss either. yes after the things she's gone through now with the starvation she's probably done for no matter what we do. It sucks, this whole situation sucks.

I wont call her husband a monster. From what I have read he has not left her side, and has made sure that her care upuntil now has been good.

- this is what I have learned so far, but by no means a real fact, i could be wrong-

She has only has two bed sores in all this time. This is unheard of and remarkable. He could have whored him self to the media, but has not.

There have been pictures of her brain posted on the internet, and they show that Terri's brain is not damaged, it's wrecked, no cortex to speak of, allot of it has been replaced by fluid. You need your cerebral cortex to be you, without you are not a person.

Rehabilitation can only happen if the person can respond, speech and sound therapy only work on a person who is cognitive. I don't know if Terri has even been cognitive, so I cant rely comment. But I do know that without therapy a person will make little if any progress.

If i'm wrong about any of this, feel free to flame...
