C4minerC4minerIf you're a Christian then you're a disgrace to all other Christians.

. I already said im not a religious person. I only stated that is what i guess i would say if someone asked me simply because thats just waht i've been told. Im not perfect, im an asshole and i don't care. I belive in Hevan and Hell, i know right from wrong, wrong is killing an innocent woman and then supprting it by posting crap like this. I speak my mind.

Your a disgrace to everyone who cares for human life by laughing at this or even just jumping on me instead of him.

All I said was that you are a disgrace to Christians if you consider yourself one. And you said you do consider yourself one. I never stated any stance on Shiavo, so don't go making such dumbfounded assumptions.

Oh, and to point out one blatant contradiction in your own argument, consider the fact that you stated "I'm an asshole and I don't care," and then promptly followed up with "I know right from wrong and killing an innocent woman is wrong." Well being an asshole is wrong, at least that's what any decent person would say, yet you don't care about the fact that you're doing something wrong.

You contradict your own morals. So you could say Terry Shiavo is just another case of people not caring about right from wrong.

Just like your own case of being an asshole. Asshole.

Theres a difference in being an asshole when its un-called for and when it is. He deserves anything anyone can dish out to him.
