icedog90But it's faster.

how can you be so sure

buying a new video card requires you to walk or drive or bus or whatever to the shop look for a card and a nice price buy it and get back home then you have to install it update drivers etc.. where i live that would take me a good 2-3 hours to change the flame for the tank would require you to make a very small model which could take what 5 mins?

also andy anychance you can show a screenshot of your emitter thing working O_o does this also change for the flame trooper?
