SEALicedog90People with 20/15 vision actually can't see close up as well as 20/20.

I've never seen that at all, nor heard that from my eye doctor. My eye doctor literally said, "You've got the best eyes I've seen in here all day." No lie. The problem isn't that "I should go to see an eye-doctor." You say that because you're too afraid to change and don't ever want negative feedback...so it must be the reader's fault.

Sorry, but it's true. I don't have evidence with me, but it makes perfect sense.
