flyingfoxHarvester? Fuck the harvester, I like to mine the front of an APC and drive it into a soldier who was sorry he let himself be seen. On occasion I will leave the APC at a tunnel entrance so they'll think, free APC...

Isn't driving into people with proxy C4s on your APC a bit redundant?

After all, you will have to make contact with them. And if you make contact with them, you are going to end up running them over anyway...
