

---

Subject: DINO,DOLF,TRIKE.DDS what the hell?

Posted by The Mad Hatter on Sat, 16 Apr 2005 15:53:26 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Quote: flyingfox wrote:

I hear reskinning happens many times a year on sheep, who get their coat shaved off at predefined intervals on all sheep in a herd. This coat luckily grows back in, allowing the coat to be reskinned; making the sheep very useful to the landowner for making money out of his sheep skins.

These sheep skins, after bought, may be used for jackets; rugs; towels; general ornamentry or anything else a sheepskin is good for. A good example would be sheep skin pads, for use on horses' backs.

<http://www.synergistsaddles.com/images/plush-sheepskin.jpg>

very distinguishable by its texture, sheepskins are great for keeping a working horse's back smooth, cool and healthy. Custom sheepskins, such as featured on this site happen to be very expensive but you may be able to find a cheaper one on the mainstream market.

Hope this helped answer your questions!

---

Another ACK wannabe

Lamer.

I thought he was taking the piss.

---