CrimsonPLEASE! Alkaline has always been one of our biggest critics. He's never had full confidence in RenGuard and never will. And I'm not Blazer. I'm Crimson.

correction:

I am one of crimson's biggest critics, I have never had full confidence in Crimson and never will. As for Renguard, in the beggining it was full of bugs and unstable and the privacy issues were just. Now we run the program because its good and UN clan has donated money to rg team so whatever.

As for the renguard bypassing, I'm not commenting either way, but yes I have seen some crazy shit going on with people that have rengaurd, you'd swear they have FR, because they behave the same way. E.g. shoot at you with rifle, 75% life gone, then shoot randomly at walls acting as if they were missing, then shoot at you again and perfect headshoots...

but, I'm not saying anything, people with an unsuall high kill count and something that obviously leads you to belive they are cheating are banned even with rg. When these exploits come to the point where the rg team finds out about them, they will fix them. But as for now its the best they can offer.
