CrimsonHmm... bribery for unbans. The problem with that is, people will start saying we only banned them to get the money, then we have to "prove" they tried to bypass... can of worms. Well, when you consider the fact pricks like Cyberpunk say that sort of thing anyway, I wouldn't worry.

He also says Renguard's only purpose is to steal players' serials. (This comes from someone who was only just forced by his webhost to remove a serial generator from his website)

He also says it's unfair that he was banned from Renguard again, after all, he didn't do anything wrong except spend weeks and weeks trying to bypass it, spend every waking minute making and using cheats, and publicly explaining how to disconnect players and servers from WOL.
