It's not free, but for $3/month, it's good. I'm quite pleasantly surprised at the quality of the hosting that I have. Granted, I finally was able to get my web sites up yesterday and today. The DNS resolves quickly. Within 30 minutes I was able to access my hosting via the domain that I use it for. I had some issues with customer service, but the probably lays within Comcast and my email apparently.

Just today I instant messaged the admin on MSN, and he set my hosting up immediately as soon as he had my money. I'm quite pleased, and I would suggest them to anybody looking for cheap and quality hosting.

Before anyone asks, I was NOT told to promote invivo-host or anything of the sort. This is purely me writing about the host because I am quite pleased.
