
Subject: Too Young?

Posted by SickOptometrist on Wed, 27 Apr 2005 14:45:41 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I did not touch alcohol until I was 28 - I wanted to get my life in order before I started doing things that could potentially get myself on the wrong path. I had 9 years of college to get through & I knew alcohol could be a real distraction from my goals. However, on my graduation, I got completely shfaced...It was fun but only a one time thing. :oops: My wife and I drink occasionally & like to go on cruises as an excuse to get stupid. You know the boat rocks alot, but when you get some drinks in ya it seems to level out & you can walk straight. You can tell who is sober because they walk in a zigzag down the hallways...
