I was trying to connect to the Renguard network to join our public clan server (NE Public Warzone), but Renguard gave me this error message:

"Failed to receive list of available master servers. Check your internet connection."

My internet was up at the time and no firewalls were up, except the router I use. That's never given me any problems before though. First time I've seen this message, so I'm not exactly sure what I should do.

If anyone has any suggestions and/or seen this error message before, any help would be appreciated.
