Quote:Germany's newspapers yesterday carried frame-by-frame shots of the incident, in which Peter Gloystein, a member of the Christian Democrats (CDU) and Bremen's economics minister, was shown on a podium, gleefully dousing Udo Oelschläger with champagne.

Mr Gloystein, who was attending the public opening of Bremen Wine Week said as he poured: "Here's something for you to drink as well."

He deserved everything and more, dignity is worth more than money, EVEN if you dont have much..
