However, there are hundreds of exploits out there that target primarily Internet Explorer. We are worried about all the crap (spyware, trojans, viruses) out there targeting Internet Explorer. There are other websites that target Firefox, Opera, Netscape, etc. too.

If you want shitloads of spyware on your computer, please continue to use Internet Explorer.
I know that every explorer has spyware, trojans, viruses. Some explorers has more of them and others less of them, but that is why there is FIRE WALL and ANTI VIRUS PROGRAM. If your computer internet security systems (fire wall,anti virus..) are out of date or they just suck, dont blame the explorer itself.
