Trying to understand the dribble you just posted is harder than getting a nun to give you some, seriously.

Would you like me to remove your shovel before you dig your own hole? I wish I could.

Your personality towards people sucks as much ass as Aircraftkillers, or even more, now THAT's a statement.

As far as the menu goes, it could use a lot of work, those animations aren't anything incredible or such. It all just seems like fodder. How about squeezing out something that will make us go "WOW! We want to see more of that!"
