that "i hate crazy frog" website is probably just as irritating. It just had some bingo advert with sound you couldn't mute.

yeah, that damn frog is played twice every advert break on ITV and C4 (that's two out of the 4 main UK channels) and it really does get old after the 50th or so time you hear it. Not to mention it's either chavs or 25 year old retail workers who think they're "trendy" who bum the hell out of it.
