Wtf, now you are totally wrong. New consoles has probably best parts that there are NOW, but when consoles are released, consoles parts are old then. PC has been always more powerful than consoles.

That's what I said. Maybe you should try reading before you reply to something?

Now, unless you can show me how almost everyone here has a more powerful computer then one of the new consoles, for under about $400-$500, then what I said was correct.
