bigejoe14I don't understand why you people tell us not to waste so much energy bashing Reborn. It hardly takes any effort to do it at all. See, watch...

Reborn sucks.

What's your fantastic game that blows reborn out of the water then? Has it been made yet?

Just comes across to me like a few 5 year olds arguing about who's dad could win in a fight, when they're orphans... It just irritates me seeing all these people who mouth off and have nothing to back it up. Just like all these so-called Chavs (scumbags who need shooting to make the world pretty much crime free in my opinion) who are really hard until you approach them, on your own, to beat up 8 of them. The only difference between that and what Aircraftkiller (to name but one person btw) is that he's actually forming an argument back and while I have respect for that, there is still nothing yet to back up the mouth.

But if you really insist on saying reborn sucks, we all know, don't.
