Imao!, seriously i take it you don't know my age. thats fine by me think as me as 12 then for all i care.

Community doesn't have to be "on line". id be happy to show you the definition of it but it would just be a waste of words for you as you wouldn't be able to grasp the concept.

AS for the fact that children of 10 years and down are using words like that should show you how well they are looked after, personally i would not allow such words to be used to to the severity and thought behind them.

As for the "teen" rating, yes in the USA thats 13, but in the Netherlands thats 15+, and in the UK IIRC thats 16+. (Then again.. UK is weird)

So if we decide to ban someone for words like that its our call to make.

And to get the record straight, we unbanned him TWICE! he broke the rules again shortly thereafter.

So don't think were totally heartless, we know what were doing.

as for you, i don't care what you are going to say next.

But its of no concern to me. you can just continue to flame or you could try to act like a normal guy and keep your opinions to yourself!

*And yes i know my spelling/grammar sucks, common fact.. sue me already!
