

---

Subject: Re: Women

Posted by msgtpain on Tue, 21 Jun 2005 01:14:07 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Tell her that there's only one other way you know of to "blow off steam".. her choice.

On a serious note, I can somewhat sympathize with you, because my wife gets jealous of Linda too.. (linda is my computer).. But you do have to remember that even though you really want to play a video game, she hasn't seen you in 13 hours either; to her, it becomes an obvious choice of which you would rather be spending your time with, it or her. If it wins on most occasions, you're in for a rough relationship.

I guess you just have to honestly ask yourself, do you enjoy the computer more than your girlfriend? If so, you may want to have a little heart-to-heart with yourself regarding how much you really like her. Girls don't like hanging around as a convenience to guys, you have to make them believe you want them there.

---