Why the Hell do people try and bypass RenGuard in the first place? Is it really that vital that RenGuard not be running? It takes maybe a whole 1% of total RAM to run, and without it, you can't very well play on a good deal of the populated servers. Unless you really feel the need to play on those servers where Wall-Hacks("Final Renegade"?) and crap are required, I just don't see the point.(And yes, some servers exist. It's like those weird-ass servers that want you to use those "look every direction and automatically shoot at a target's head at 100 rounds per second" hacks on Counter-Strike.)
