When someone says its a good idea, it doesnt always mean that they want you to make a big deal out of it. CP3 probably hasnt even been thought of yet since they are working on CP2. Don't rush a head, they already have enough work laid out in front of them.

My god you irritate me.

He was thinking about the contest for CP3 because there isn't enough time to have the maps in time for CP2.

Don't rush ahead? They aren't rushing, give the guys some credit, they are doing a good job, a job 1 million times better than you could do. The idea of the contest for CP3 I spose was an idea that titan would have liked to see in CP2 only there wasn't enough time for it to occur.
