Because he's an attention seeking little shit. He was on this English breakfast show and whenever the presenter asked him a question he just showed him the palm of his hand which had an eye drawn on it. He hardly spoke two words the whole show and didn't even explain the eye thing. He decided to live in a block of ice for no apparent reason. He stood on a pole for days again for no reason. He lived in a perspex box dangling from London bridge for 40 days or something like that with no food. That is why I think he's a moron.
