That motherboard is $37, do not get a motherboard that cheap. Do you mean $70 - $120 for both a CPU and a motherboard? If that's what you mean, your upgrade is going to be EXTREMELY small or non-existent, because the slowest Athlon 64 (which is even discontinued at some places) is $120.

If you hopefully mean $70 - $120 for a motherboard, then get this at least:
