Well, if I am not mistaken, you can play a game by yourself if you make the game a 1 player game. I have not tried this yet, but you could try having everyone just join one team or the other and fill the server up. If everyone joins on the same team, it may work. I have never tried that and there are those morons out there that join a game called "Be GDI or I kick" and they choose Nod. It is worth a try though. Good luck.
