Right, but what about alcohol. I would MUCH rather be in the passenger seat of a car being driven by someone high than someone drunk. Besides, driving while high is already a crime in and of itself (reckless endangerment).

Pot doesn't exactly do "harm" to the mind. There has been no reported case or study concluding that smoking pot kills brain cells.

"warranto" Not to mention EVERY person that I know who smokes pot is a complete dunce while they are high.

Same with alcohol.
