Sometimes the server does not recognise you are on renguard. Try doing !rg <yourname> and see if it says you are using renguard. If it says you do, then NP: it's just the recognition system playiong up. If it says you aren't, then it could be that you need to restart. Don't forget : every time you use another name, you will have to login to WOL, get out of renegade and restart renguard so it remembers your name.

in other words just use one username and you wont have problems
