Like i said, i saw it once. Oh, and believe me, it took about five fuggin minutes to slaughter GDI. They overwhelmed us in numbers, but even our most ignorant player -- he bought an SBH at every oppertunity, and stayed in the base at all times -- was smarter than them. Believe me, it happened. Kinda odd that the entire GDI team was idiots, and Nod was full of good players. Then again, next map was almost the same thing. Just that our best player was on the opposite team. We still won.
