I do feel that RenX could do the job fairly well. From what I've noticed of him, he could handle situations in a mature fashion.

I haven't noticed Zunnie actually post in the forums in question, so I'm not sure if he deserves to be a mod of such... Thus, him handling such things would be a totally different subject at this point. Maybe I'm blind though?

As for everyone else (excluding myself, since I'd be biased), I could hardly care either way. Just as long as whomever does get chosen does not abuse their powers, I would be happy, of course.
