Yeah, that's me, Aircraftkillers best buddy. The reason I don't post here much is because of people like you.

Why were the Renalert maps bad? They were way better than any of the westwood maps, for sure. Once again, I feel that you are saying you do not like the maps just because of the author of them. My point wasn't about you asking about the release date, its just that you usually seem to bring up APB, when it is completely irrelevant, as it is on a different engine. I never said you brought that up more than once anyways.
