I'm just waiting to see the idiot's response. What I find funny most is, to be liked by an idiot, you have to act like an idiot. You have to bring yourself down to their level, or even lower, for them to not feel intimidated by you. Sometimes they'll be cocky enough to try and exert themselves over you, but they'll fail. Then they'll try and bring you down to their level. It's quite an interesting pattern. You'll notice it everywhere.
